PART III – NARRATIVE

TransAct Technologies Incorporated (the "Company") is unable to file its Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2019 (the "Form 10-Q") within the prescribed time period because management of the Company has identified material weaknesses in its internal control over financial reporting ("ICFR") relating to certain aspects of its information technology, including related access and segregation of duties, and controls over key spreadsheets that existed as of December 31, 2018 and through September 30, 2019.

To the knowledge of the Company's principal executive officer and principal financial officer, these material weaknesses did not result in any material misstatement of the Company's previously filed financial statements. Material weaknesses indicate that ICFR was not effective, and because those same material weaknesses have not yet been remediated at September 30, 2019, the Company's ICFR continued to be ineffective as of that date. The Company's 2018 Annual Report on Form 10-K (the "2018 Form 10-K") will be amended to reflect the conclusions reached. The Company is in the process of developing and implementing a remediation plan to address the identified material weaknesses in ICFR.

The Company's need to re-evaluate its ICFR relating to its information technology arose after an inspection of its independent registered public accounting firm, PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP ("PwC"), which included a review of PwC's independent audit of the Company's 2018 consolidated financial statements and ICFR.

Upon completion of additional procedures, the Company expects to finalize the operating results for the quarter ended September 30, 2019 and file the related Form 10-Q and the necessary amendment to the 2018 Form 10-K. The Company is making every effort to finalize its results and file such reports on or before November 18, 2019.
